

End of an Era in Pilling

With the imminent demolition of Pilling Memorial Hall a gathering of memories and memorabilia was organised for its last public day, Sunday 29th March, 2015.

Friends had a good chat and shared their memories.

Enjoying the brew? Well someone has to do the washing up!

The group gathered outside for the last ever photo call in front of Pilling Memorial Hall

The Memorial Hall saw a number of events in its 95 year history.

One of the last events which took place on the Memorial Hall was a Jumble Sale in aid of Macmillan Cancer on Saturday 28th March.

The appeals for jumble went out far and wide and attracted numerous donations. Stalls were set out with goods in a rainbow of colours: ready for the waiting bargain hunters:

And you're always sure of a good feed in Pilling with home made refreshments and a decent cup of tea!!
